

BIOGRAPHY: TIM CURRY
DIRECTOR OF FINANCE, BBC WORLDWIDE ANZ

Tim Curry joined BBC Worldwide Australia & New Zealand as Director of Finance in November 2014.

The role provides high level financial analysis and strategic planning across the Australia and New Zealand business, working for MD Jon Penn and alongside the senior management team to ensure that growth plans are achieved.

Tim joined BBC Worldwide from AMT Group, where he was the Chief Financial Officer for the mobile phone retailer. In 2013 he worked as COO/CFO for The Leading Edge, an international market research and strategy services company, where he helped to improve profitability across the business.

Prior to this, Tim was the Group Financial Controller at pay television provider AUSTAR for six years, from 2006-11. In this role he contributed to the company's strategic direction as part of the senior management team and had specific financial responsibility for joint ventures XYZ, Nickleodeon, MCN and Main Event with Foxtel and others.

Tim qualified as a Chartered Accountant with PricewaterhouseCoopers in London and worked for them for 10 years in London, Sydney and Vancouver in a number of senior roles.
